SECTION 1: SUMMARY OF CHANGES

Preface

This edition of the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey manual contains UCR specifications for all legislation released prior to December 2025. Please see subsection 'Legislative Changes' for a detailed description of new legislation which have occurred since the release of the previous version of the manual in June 2024.

Legislative and Other Changes

There are two types of changes that affect the UCR survey: changes brought in by the Government of Canada in the form of a new bill or law and changes that are initiated by the Canadian Centre for Justice and Community Safety Statistics (CCJCSS), most often as a result of feedback or requests from police services.

Bills that are introduced by the Government of Canada, and which subsequently become law, restrict what the CCJCSS can and cannot do. The new laws must be implemented, on the date they come into force, by all police services and records management software companies. This normally means new data entry rules and possibly a series of new UCR survey codes.

The second type of changes are those initiated by the CCJCSS, often at the request of police services. These are changes aimed at simplifying or clarifying scoring rules, making reporting more uniform, or making the UCR reflect more closely what police services capture. These changes should be made whenever possible, either through updates, a patch, or an upgraded version of the software or by manually adding to the concordance tables.

Introduction of UCR v2.5 variables

A revised version of the Uniform Crime Reporting Survey (UCR) has been introduced. This revised version, known as UCR v2.5, will include new variables on the Victim and CSC Officer Perceived Population Group, the Victim and CSC Self Reported Population Group, the Victim and CSC Self Reported Population Group Open-field not collected through the previous versions of the UCR Survey and will also include updated options for the existing Gender and Charges Laid or Recommended variables. The UCR v2.5 will continue to capture all variables collected as part of previous survey versions.

This update was done to include the UCR v2.5 variables as well as updates made to existing variables:

Bill C-70: An Act respecting countering foreign interference (Sabotage)

On June 20, 2024, the Canadian Government granted royal assent to Bill C-70, “An Act respecting countering foreign interference”. As a response to the changes outlined in this new legislation, the Canadian Centre for Justice and Community Safety Statistics (CCJCSS) has made adjustments to the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey.

Effective August 19th, 2024, new Criminal Code sections 52.1 ‘Sabotage - essential infrastructure’ and section 52.2 “Sabotage – device” will be mapped to existing UCR code 3710 ‘Offences Against Public Order’. Police services can begin using and submitting offences against Criminal Code section 52.1 and 52.2 under UCR code 3710 ‘Offences Against Public Order’ as soon as their records management system has been updated. Due to the importance of complete and uniform data, police services are asked to update any ‘Sabotage – essential infrastructure’ and ‘Sabotage – device’ offences which have occurred since August 19th, 2024, to UCR code 3710 ‘Offences Against Public Order’ if they were not captured in that way originally.

All other non-Criminal Code changes outlined in Bill C-70 will continue to be captured under the existing UCR code for that piece of legislation.

6580 Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act

The Canadian Centre for Justice and Community Safety Statistics (CCJCSS) has introduced the following new violation code to the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey: 6580 'Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act'.

Reason for the change
Currently, offences under the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act (PCMLTFA) are being captured under the general UCR code 6900 'Other Federal Statutes' which includes data from a number of other federal statutes. This does not allow for national reporting on offences under this legislation individually. Capturing data on PCMLTFA offences under its own separate code will provide key information for crime analysis, resource planning and program development for the policing community and will also allow for a more comprehensive understanding of the effectiveness of Canada's measures to combat money laundering and terrorist financing completed by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF)1 as part of the Mutual Evaluation Review. This change will also contribute to the safety and security of Canadians by providing more detailed information to support law enforcement efforts to detect and disrupt criminal and financial terrorist activities.

Effective Date
Police services can begin using and submitting the new UCR code 6580 'Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act' as soon as their records management systems are updated to allow them to do so. Police services are encouraged to begin using this new code by January 1, 2025 in order to allow for the collection of a full year of data in 2025.

Other details
UCR code 6900 'Other Federal Statutes' will remain a valid UCR violation code in order to capture all remaining federal legislation not otherwise assigned their own unique UCR code.

UCR Reporting Requirements

6580 – Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act.

Maximum penalty: 5 years

Sections: All valid sections under the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act.

Incident record:

Incident 'to' date: No restrictions. CCJCSS will allow incidents from earlier in the year or previous years to be updated to this new code if desired.

Most Serious Weapon Present and Weapon Status values: Not applicable (not a violent offence).

Organized Crime: This violation can be related to Organized Crime. If the violation is deemed to be related to Organized Crime, the Organized Crime indicator must be scored appropriately.

Cybercrime: This violation can be a cybercrime. If the violation is deemed to be a cybercrime, the cybercrime indicator, type, and classification must be scored appropriately.

Charged/Suspect – Chargeable record:

The correct statute for charges laid or recommended is FS 'Federal Statute (Other than those listed)'.

Victim record: Victim records are not allowed for this violation.

Bill C-69 An Act to implement certain provisions of the budget tabled in Parliament on April 16, 2024

On June 20th, 2024, the Canadian Government granted royal assent to Bill C-69, "An Act to implement certain provisions of the budget tabled in Parliament on April 16, 2024" which introduced the following new Criminal Code offences:

333.1 (3) 'Motor vehicle theft when violence used, threatened or attempted'.

333.1 (4) 'Motor vehicle theft for criminal organization'.

333.2 (1) 'Possession of device for purpose of committing theft'.

333.2 (2) 'Distribution of device linked to theft'.

462.31 (2.1) 'Laundering proceeds of crime for criminal organization'.

As a response to the changes outlined in this new legislation, the Canadian Centre for Justice and Community Safety Statistics (CCJCSS) has made adjustments to the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey.

New UCR Violation Codes and Mapping:

UCR Violation Code	UCR Code Label	UCR Max Penalty	New Criminal Code Section(s)
NEW* 1435	Motor vehicle theft when violence used, threatened or attempted	14 years	333.1 (3)
NEW* 2136	Motor vehicle theft for criminal organization	14 years	333.1 (4)
NEW* 2137	Possession or distribution of device linked to motor vehicle theft	10 years	333.2(1), 333.2(2)
NEW* 3826	Laundering proceeds of crime for criminal organization	14 years	462.31 (2.1)

The above sections are effective as of July 20th, 2024, police services can begin using the new UCR codes as soon as their records management system allows it. Due to the importance of complete and uniform data, police services are asked to update any offences noted above that have occurred since July 20th , 2024, to the appropriate UCR code based on the information provided in this document.

Any offences outlined in the new acts; Global Minimum Tax Act and the Consumer Driven Banking Act will be captured under existing UCR code 6900 "Other Federal Statutes". Other non-Criminal Code changes outlined in Bill C-69 will be captured under the existing UCR code for that piece of legislation.

Bill C-291: An Act to amend the Criminal Code and to make consequential amendments to other Acts (child sexual abuse and exploitation material)

The Canadian Government granted royal assent to Bill C-291: An Act to amend the Criminal Code and to make consequential amendments to other Acts (child sexual abuse and exploitation material) on October 10, 2024. As part of this new legislation, it was outlined that Criminal Code sections 163.1(2)(3)(4)(4.1) would be amended, with the amendments coming into effect one year following the bill reaching royal assent, on October 10, 2025. In response to these changes, the Canadian Centre for Justice and Community Safety Statistics (CCJCSS) has made adjustments to the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey.

UCR violation code 3455 "Child Pornography (Possessing or Accessing)" has been renamed to "Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation Material (Possessing or Accessing)". UCR violation code 3456 "Child Pornography (Making or Distributing)" has also been renamed to "Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation Material (Making or Distributing)".

UCR Violation Code	Old UCR Code Label	New UCR Code Label
3455	Child Pornography (Possessing or Accessing)	Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation Material (Possessing or Accessing)
3456	Child Pornography (Making or Distributing)	Child Sexual Abuse and Exploitation Material (Making or Distributing)

Modifications to definitions for UCR version 2.4 firearms variables

To improve data quality for the firearms variables in the UCR, Statistics Canada has worked closely with several police service respondents to review and refine the language used in the definitions. The wording has been updated to ensure clarity and support accurate reporting by police. See the section entitled Firearms for more information.

SECTION 2: INTRODUCTION

2.1 Information for Respondents

Authority

Statistics Act, Revised Statutes of Canada, 1985, Chapter S19.

Objectives

This survey collects essential incident-based data on the nature and extent of crime in Canada. It provides comprehensive data for more complete crime analysis, resource planning, and program development for the policing community. Municipal and Provincial governments use these data to aid decisions about the distribution of police resources, definitions of provincial standards, and for comparisons with other departments and provinces. To the Federal government it provides information for policy and legislative development, evaluation of new legislative initiatives and international comparisons. As well, media, academics, and researchers use these data to examine questions about crime.

Confidentiality

Statistics Canada is prohibited by law from publishing any statistics which would divulge information obtained from this survey that relates to any identifiable respondent/individual without the previous written consent of the respondent/individual. The information reported will be treated in confidence, used for statistical purposes, and published in aggregate form only. The confidentiality provisions of the Statistics Act are not affected by either the Access to Information Act or any other legislation.

Collection Registration Number: STC/CCJ-140-60100

2.2 File submissions to CCJCSS

File format:

A submission includes 3 text (.txt) files: an incident file, a victim file and a CSC file. These files may be encoded as UTF-8 or ANSI if no special characters are included in the data. If special characters such as accents (ex: é, à) are included in the data, the files must be ANSI encoded. The UCR survey processing system cannot accept special characters with other encoding types.

Currently, there are four versions of the UCR microdata (UCR2) survey in collection: versions 2.2, 2.3, 2.4 and 2.5. Police services are encouraged to submit data in the most up-to-date version as soon as possible. For record layouts for each version, please contact CCJCSS.

Submission deadlines:

Police services are required to submit data on a monthly basis. Data is due 45 days after the end of the month on the 15th of each month. For example, complete January data is due March 15th, February data is due April 15th, March data is due May 15th and so on.

Submitting data securely:

Data is only accepted through Statistic Canada's e-File Transfer Service (e-FT). The e-FT is a Web-based application for survey respondents to securely upload files to, or download files from, Statistics Canada. There is no software to download and install locally.

The e-FT is accessible via the Internet at: https://eft-tef.statcan.gc.ca/#/

Data should never be sent to Statistics Canada via email. This is not a secure method.

SECTION 3: GENERAL RULES OF UCR SCORING

In order to collect data and produce crime statistics which may be compared across Canada, the rules of the UCR survey must be applied uniformly. The purpose of this section of the manual is to provide information regarding the key concepts, general rules and terminology used by the UCR survey.

3.1 UCR Terminology

Violation

Refers to a contravention of the Criminal Code or other Federal or Provincial Statute.

UCR Incident

An incident for the purposes of the UCR survey is considered to be the set of connected events which usually constitute an occurrence report and may contain one or more violations of the law (and their related victims and charged/suspect – chargeable records). These may be grouped into the same unique incident if and only if they are committed by the same person or groups of persons and if they occur at the same time and place. There are some exceptions to this rule. Please see the section on continuing offence rule for more information.

An incident can contain one to four violation codes. The most serious violation, as determined by the maximum penalty, is referred to as Most Serious Violation (MSV) within an incident. When reporting, the MSV must always be the first violation code listed on the record. Your records management system may be programmed to do this automatically.

Victim

The term victim is a central concept in UCR scoring. For the purpose of reporting incidents, a victim is a person who is the target of a violent or aggressive action (or threat) and should not be confused with a complainant who is the target of a non-violent incident. A violent violation of the law generally involves the use of aggressive action (with the intent to do harm) or the credible threat of such action by one person against another. The survey also collects victims of criminal traffic violations. For this, the victim is the target of an intended/unintended violent action.

People who have been victimized as a result of lost property, either through damage or theft, are defined as complainants rather than victims.

Charged/Suspect - Chargeable

A Charged/Suspect – Chargeable (CSC) is a person who has been identified as an accused person in an incident and against whom a charge may be laid in connection with that incident.

Place

A place as defined by the UCR is a single connected property that is owned, rented, or occupied by the same person (or group of people), e.g., a residence or a business. In the case of property crimes the place is extended to include motor vehicles.

Motor vehicles are defined as:

> A vehicle which is propelled or driven other than by muscular power, but does not include a vehicle which operates on rails.

The concept of place applies only to non-traffic violations.

Below are the categories of motor vehicles which are defined as a single place:

> Automobiles - includes all models of automobiles and station wagons.
> Trucks - includes all models of trucks and buses designed to transport people or freight, including vans and motor homes.
> Motorcycles - includes all types of motorcycles with two or three wheels including mopeds (Vespas, Honda Jazz, Suzuki Burgman), and motor trikes (such as Spyders, Kymco CV3).
> Other Motor Vehicle - includes motorized snow vehicles, farm tractors, commercial-use lawn mowers, and other self-propelled farming implements, cranes, fork-lifts, graders, bulldozers and other self-propelled vehicles (designed and used on construction sites, building, and maintenance of roads and in the lumber industry), army tanks, army jeeps, all-terrain vehicles, and golf carts.

The vehicle's registration is not a criterion for determining whether a particular vehicle is a motor vehicle or not. The following are not considered motor vehicles under the UCR definition of "place":

- aircraft
- boats
- vessels of all types
- hovercrafts
- power wheelchairs, and
- non-commercial type snow blowers

Place – Examples:

A single home, the attached or detached garage, the backyard and driveway, the backyard shed, which are all located on the same contiguous property and that belong to (or are rented by) the same person.

Two apartments in the same building are separate places if they are rented or occupied by different people.

The city home and the cottage, owned by the same person, are separate places because they are not connected.

Two cars are considered separate places for UCR survey purposes, except when multiple motor vehicle thefts occur at one the same location at the same time. This can be recorded on one incident record, using the counter to indicate the number of motor vehicle thefts that occurred.

Three business offices in the same building that have no business connections to each other are considered three different places.

3.2 Scoring Rules

Score Only from Police Sources

The basic source of information for UCR scoring is the police occurrence report. It is important that all categories of crime and traffic incidents occurring within a police jurisdiction be reported so that statistical data published by Statistics Canada is complete, accurate, and factual. Only police departmental records should be used when compiling statistical returns.

Assistance Cases

Police services should only report incidents which occur in their jurisdiction or where they have primary investigative authority. A police service assisting another police service should not report the incident to Statistics Canada. In order to prevent duplicate submissions of the same incident it is encouraged that police services communicate with each other when more than one police service is involved in a particular incident.

Integrated Units

Due to the nature of integrated units it is important that agencies communicate and come to an agreement on which agency will report the incident.

Homicide Survey

A set of detailed Homicide Survey forms (i.e., Incident, Victim, Accused, Police Victim or Correctional Victim forms) will be requested from the police service for every incident of culpable (criminal) homicide reported to the UCR survey. Criminal homicide is defined in the Criminal Code of Canada, section 222 and includes 1st degree murder, 2nd degree murder, manslaughter and infanticide.

8000 Series

The 8000 series is reserved for internal codes and municipal by-laws. Statistics Canada does not use the 8000 series violations for analytical purposes.

3.3 Definition of an Incident

Definition

An incident is defined as a set of connected events usually constituting a police occurrence report. An incident may involve several victims, several CSCs, and multiple violations of the law. Below are several rules to be considered when entering a UCR incident report.

Traffic Violations

All traffic violations have to be separated from non-traffic violations and should be recorded as separate incidences.

The Continuing Offence Rule

In some cases, several violations are recorded together under what is referred to as the Continuing Offence Rule. This means that several violations can be tied together because they either happened in a sequential manner, they repeat over time, or they are all part of a larger case.

In order for the continuing offence rule to apply, enough elements of the crime must be the same for it to be considered one incident.

One violation occurring over a period of time and/or location or two or more violations of the law (and their related victims and CSCs), are grouped into the same unique incident if they are committed by the same person or group of persons, AND:

i) they are part of simultaneous or sequential actions that occur at the same place (not repeated actions over a long period of time, but actions committed simultaneously or in sequence in a short period of time at the same place), or

ii) they are part of interrelated actions over a short period of time, that is, actions where one action leads to the other or where one is the consequence of the other(s), or

iii) when a the same violation is repeated over a period of time and all the violations only come to the attention of the police at one point in time, or

iv) when a series of similar crimes (such as a series of mischiefs) committed at the same location by the same individual(s), come to the attention of the police at one point in time.

Please note that conspiracy to commit and the crime for which the CSC conspired are counted as separate incidents if they occur at different times (before the crime occurred).

The terms governing when one can use the Continuing Offence Rule (and thereby group several violations into one incident) can be complex and sometimes seem contradictory. It is the purpose of this section to try to outline when to use the rule, and to include as many of the most common situations as possible as illustrations.

If linkages are identified over multiple calls for service, either by police or records staff, then the continuing offence rule would apply, with the understanding that some agencies will be able to spend more time/effort at identifying such linkages than others. If the calls come in separately, it may not always be obvious that these incidents happened together. If the police service is in doubt, or there is no clear link, or a link has not been identified, then the police service should file each as a separate incident.

Below is one example where it might get reported in different ways depending on how the calls come in:

Example A).

6 calls come in from 6 complainants within an hour all reporting people keying cars on the street in front of their house. One officer attends and files all in one report using one UCR incident with a counter for the number of motor vehicles targeted.

Example B).

6 calls come in from 6 complainants over a 24 hour period, each reporting discovering their vehicle had been keyed. The calls come in to different dispatchers and during different shifts. It is not readily apparent to the officers attending that they all occurred together. Each officer files their own report with their own UCR incident.

Both of these examples are correct. The continuing offence rule is meant to be a tool to help minimize the administrative burden of UCR reporting. Statistics Canada uses the counter to inflate incidents, so whether reported as one incident with a counter of 6, or 6 separate incidents, the same number of incidents will be counted.

Here are detailed circumstances under which the Continuing Offence Rule applies:

1) Several violations in a sequential manner

A man breaks into a house, while there he confronts the owner and assaults him.

Both of these violations occurred at the same time and place, so would be included on one incident.

A woman drives down the street and hits two cars, she leaves the scene of the accident and drives another 5 minutes and hits another car.

All of these incidents occur in a sequence, although they might have happened on different streets (locations), it is generally thought of as one continuous dangerous driving case, and can therefore be included in one incident.

A call comes in with regards to a suspicious vehicle. Police attend and discover a driver who is impaired. In addition, drugs are found in the vehicle.

This should be reported as two incidents (traffic and non-traffic are always separated), one for the impaired driving (traffic offence), and one for the possession of drugs.

2) Part of interrelated actions over a short period of time

A man sets fire to a private house and two occupants die in the blaze.

In this instance, the death of two occupants is a direct consequence of the initial arson. One UCR incident should be reported with two violations (one for arson and one for the death of the two occupants).

A woman is arrested for possession of stolen goods. She is transported to the station where a search finds drugs on her person.

This should be reported as one UCR incident. The drugs should or could have been discovered by police officers at the original scene. A new incident is not required simply because the location of the discovery is different.

In addition, reporting two separate incidents would make it look like the possession of narcotics is taking place at the police station.

3) Several violations repeat over time

> A man is accused of sexually assaulting his daughter. The incest took place over 5 years.

This is reported as one UCR incident as it came to the attention of police at one time. The 'to' and 'from' dates are used to indicate the period of time for which the violation repeatedly occurred.

> A woman working at a gas station has been steadily skimming money out of the till. Each week she takes $10 or $20 out. The amount is so small the owner does not realize for 8 months.

This repeated violation is one continuous offence and should be reported as one UCR incident. A new incident does not need to be entered – the 'to' and 'from' dates should be used to indicate the period of time which the violation occurred over.

> Two people are in a tumultuous marriage. Over the last 3 years there have been several incidents where one assaulted the other, however, police were never contacted. Finally police are contacted and a report is taken.

Since the assault spanned 3 years and all the information came to the attention of police at one time, police can file one incident of assault and use the to and from dates to show how long this has occurred. If, however, police were contacted on multiple occasions, they should report one incident each time they are contacted.

Once the violation is known to police and reported in an incident, should it re-occur, it would now need a new incident, i.e., if a man has repeatedly sexually assaulted his daughter, is charged by police, and a year later is re-arrested for the same offence, an entirely new incident is required.

4) All part of a larger case

> A man commits murder, and sets the building on fire (arson) in order to cover up the murder.

These are both part of the larger murder case, so should be reported in one incident.

> A person is selling crystal meth to an undercover agent. Over a 3 day period, the agent buys 5 times from the dealer to make a case.

This can be considered one continuous incident. Most of the elements are the same, and it is a controlled environment, since the police are knowingly allowing the infraction to be committed. However, day to day drug cases and major crime investigations may differ from one another in their use of this rule.

> Police arrest 4 individuals involved in a series of drug transactions with different clients over different times and locations.

These can NOT be grouped into one offence, since too many of the elements are different.

When should you NOT use the Continuing Offence Rule?

Generally, enough elements of the crime need to be the same to use the Continuing Offence Rule.

> A woman commits a Break and Enter on Elm Street, and then an hour later robs a bank on Crystal Lake Boulevard.

There are too many elements that differ with this example. This should be reported as two separate incidents. Generally, the location should be the same to use the Continuing Offence Rule.

The Mischief Exception to place

Some crimes are of a less serious nature. When several of these come to the attention of police at the same time, they are dealt with as one larger incident.

> A man keys cars down one street and then up another. Although we understand that vehicles are separate locations, the crime had a unifying theme, and occurred in the street (the cars were not stolen or moved) so for this purpose we see them as all part of one larger incident of Mischief.

Similarly, if someone breaks 5 mailboxes on 5 houses, it is all part of one incident (as long as it became known to police all at once). Similarly to a series of motor vehicles being targeted with Mischief, as long as it is only Mischief and it is believed to have occurred in a sequential manner by police and all came to the attention of police at the same time, you may use this exception.

A good rule is to look at how police will respond and investigate this offence. Will they consider this one general occurrence? How different are the elements of the crime?

Here are some additional scenarios highlighting the Continuing Offence Rule:

> A call came in about a fight inside a hockey arena, a second call came in with the caller stating some males are outside now. The 3 males that were involved in the fight are now in the parking lot and just slashed the tires of a car in the parking lot. There were a total of 8 vehicles that had their tires slashed. There were 3 males arrested.

One incident can be used with an Assault and one Mischief (with a counter of eight), since the subsequent mischiefs all occurred in a sequential manner. As mentioned above, all the information came to the police at one time, the cars had their tires slashed at the same time.

> A call came in as a theft from a department store, a description of the vehicle and direction of travel was given by the caller. An officer attempted to stop this vehicle and it would not stop, speed of 50km/hr increased to 65 km/hr, then increased to 110 - 115 km/hour. Vehicle is eventually stopped with one suspect arrested. We then learn that the vehicle was reported stolen earlier that day and the suspect was on probation.

Although these all occurred in a sequential manner, there are too many different variables for it to be one incident. The Theft of the motor vehicle occurred much earlier and at a different location and time as well as a being a different complainant and violation type. Also note that traffic offences are always reported as a separate incident.

> A call came in as a theft from a large shopping mall. There were 2 suspects who had stolen items from stores and left the mall on 3 occasions to hide the articles in the woods. On their third attempt they were arrested for theft under. They stole from 3 different stores, and 3 file numbers were generated for Theft under $5000.

Since this call involved three different stores (locations) it would be recorded as three separate incidents.

> A call came in as a smashed window and an open garage door at a radiator business. The caller didn't go in to see if anyone was still there. Upon arrival, the officer noted that the main window of the business had been completely smashed out and that the door had also been left open. The key holder arrived and it was discovered that 2 vehicles were stolen, 1 vehicle was inside the business, and the other was outside. There was a safe missing containing documents, no cash.

Each motor vehicle is considered a separate place, but because the motor vehicle thefts occurred at the same time and at the same location, they can be recorded on one incident with a counter of two. The Break & Enter would be recorded on a separate incident report.

Cross-Charging

In some situations, like a fight, the CSC may also be a victim. This would require that 2 incident reports are created, one with Person A as the CSC, and another with Person A as the victim. The same person cannot be both the CSC and the victim on 1 incident report.

3.4.1 Violations against the Person (1000 Series violations)

All actions committed against the same victim(s) occurring under the same conditions are grouped together. 1000-series violations are dependent on the actions of the CSC(s) and the link between their different actions and victims.

> Two men commit a bank robbery. They assault a customer of the bank during the incident and when outside the bank they shoot and kill a bank guard who was attempting to stop them.

In this incident there are three different violations of the law: a murder, an assault, and a robbery. They are all part of the same incident because they are all interrelated: the murder and the assault are the consequence of the robbery and they would not have occurred without the initial offence. Accordingly, all violations are grouped as one incident.

> A bus driver and two passengers are assaulted by two young men.

The three assaults are part of the same incident because they occurred simultaneously at the same place.

> A motorcycle driver cuts off a passenger vehicle, the vehicle follows the driver to the next light. At the light a fight ensues resulting in one of the passengers being transported to the hospital, while the other has relatively minor injuries.

Since the assault took place at the same time and place, you would submit one incident record, with one CSC record (the motorcycle driver) and two victim records (the passengers). Each victim record should show their own level of injury (minor and major injuries respectively).

There are certain violent violations which may be perpetrated against the victim multiple times over a given period. It may not be possible to determine the specific number of times these violations were committed. When a violation is committed repeatedly against the same victim(s) by the same CSC(s) and it comes to the attention of police all at the same time, only one incident is recorded. The to date and from date variables would be used on this incident to indicate the violation(s) took place over a period of time.

3.4.2 Violations against Property (2000 series violations)

Break and Enter

Given the definition of place and the nature of Break and Enter, there can only be one violation of Break and Enter on an incident. Therefore, the number of incidents of Break and Enter reported is equal to the number of different places broken into. Note, if a single house, the attached garage, and the backyard shed are broken into, only one Break and Enter is scored because all these structures are located at the same place (as defined above).

Examples

A man breaks into ten separately rented apartments in an apartment building.

Ten incidents of Break and Enter will be reported because each distinct apartment is defined as a separate place.

A house and detached garage on the same contiguous property are broken into.

Only one incident of Break and Enter is reported because the house and detached garage are considered a single place situated on a single piece of property.

Four offices in a building are broken into after closing hours and ransacked. The offices are occupied by: 1) a lawyer, 2) a dentist, 3) a doctor, and 4) a construction firm. They do not share their space and have no business connection.

Four incidents of Break and Enter will be reported to the UCR survey because each office is deemed a distinct and separate place.

A secured locker room in an apartment building is broken into and goods are stolen from ten lockers.

One incident of Break and Enter will be reported because all the actions were committed in sequence over a short period of time at the same place.

Some money is stolen from ten lockers at a swimming pool complex.

One incident of Theft would be reported. Break and Enter is not scored, as the perpetrator committed theft in a publicly accessible location.

A number of apartments are broken into in an apartment building. Three of them were unoccupied, the other two were occupied.

Three incidents of Break and Enter will be reported - two incidents for the two occupied apartments, and one incident for the group of three unoccupied apartments. This is because each 'place' must be separately owned, rented, or occupied (except for motor vehicles).

A woman breaks into a garden shed and steals a bicycle.

Since the violation meets the Criminal Code definition of Break and Enter it should be coded as a Break and Enter and not a Theft.

Arson

The number of incidents of arson is determined by the number of different places where a fire was set.

Examples

Two units in an apartment building are set on fire by two separately ignited fires, without the intention of burning the whole building down.

Two incidents of Arson are reported (a fire was set in 2 different places).

A fire is set to one unit in an apartment building and four units burn down.

One incident of Arson (only one fire was set). If a fire is set to a single home and the neighbouring house also burns, there is only one incident of Arson (only one fire was set).

A store and the two apartments on the second floor are destroyed by fire. The investigation concludes that the fire was criminally set at the back of the store using gas.

One incident of Arson would be reported.

A fire is set in a vehicle parked on the street.

One incident of Arson would be reported.

Two fires are set to two houses on the same street.

Two incidents of Arson will be reported because the two fires were set to two different places.

Two fires are set at the back of an apartment building.

Only one incident of Arson will be reported. The fire was not set to individual apartments and the apartment building itself was the target of the CSC.

Several fires are set in a recreational facility by one person.

Only one incident of Arson will be reported as the recreational facility is a single place and the fires were set within the single place.

Possession of Stolen Goods

When the police apprehend a person (or group of persons) who is (are) in possession of stolen goods, this is scored as one incident. The scoring is not dependent on the number of stolen objects, the number of persons who own the objects, the number of CSCs, or the number of places where these objects are stored. Please include the property codes with any incident of Possession of Stolen Goods.

Please note that Possession offences can now be entered on the same incident as Theft offences.

Please use the following guidelines when deciding whether to include the possession as a part of the original offence or to code to a new incident:

- If police apprehend a suspect during or immediately after a Theft, possession is implied as part of the theft violation. That is to say do not code the Possession, just the Theft.
- If police apprehend a suspect later and charge the CSC with Possession, please create a separate incident for the Possession and a separate incident for the Theft, as it is not clear that the same persons were involved in the Theft as the Possession (possibly another CSC)

Examples

A man is arrested in a parking lot selling stolen watches.

One incident of Possession of Stolen Goods will be reported.

A man is arrested for speeding. The police discover stolen goods in his car. Subsequently, additional stolen goods are discovered in his house and his cottage.

One incident of Possession of Stolen Goods will be reported.

Stolen goods are discovered in a warehouse. The investigation reveals the stolen goods were stored in this place by two men.

One incident of Possession of Stolen Goods would be reported to the survey, and two persons would be charged in relation to this incident.

A man arrested for Possession of Stolen Goods. He tells police that he bought them from someone else. Police discover more stolen goods in the apartment of the second man.

Two incidents of Possession of Stolen Goods must be recorded, one person is charged for each incident.

Identity theft (theft rules apply)

Identity theft refers to stolen identity information that is gathered but not used.

A man goes into someone else's wallet. He copies down the credit card/debit card info and security code on the back. The information was not used.

A card skimmer is installed at a gas station and comes to the attention of the police. The suspect is arrested when he comes to collect the skimmer.

Identity fraud

Identity fraud refers to stolen identity information that is used.

A man's wallet is stolen and his credit card/debit card is used to make online purchases.

The UCR survey uses a fraud counter to track the number of fraudulent cheques issued and the number of times a transaction card is used in a fraudulent manner.

One record will be created for each transaction card which is used for fraudulent purposes together with a count of the number of times that it was used. For Fraud by cheque, one record will be created for each location where cheques were passed by the same person or group of persons within a given period and a count of the number of cheques issued at each location will be provided. A 'count' will be generated for the number of fraudulent actions occurring within each type of Fraud.

Fraud

For most other types of Frauds (i.e. excluding cheques or transaction cards), one record will be created each time a fraudulent action is committed. One record will be created when a number of similar fraudulent actions occur at one time in one location, using the counter to indicate the number of frauds that occurred.

A man enters a store and knowingly issues three bad cheques and subsequently enters a second store and knowingly issues two additional bad cheques

Two incidents of Fraud will be reported to UCR 2* with the counter indicating three for the first incident and two fraudulent actions, thus showing the number of cheques passed within each store.

A woman enters a shopping centre and uses a stolen credit card/debit card in three different stores.

One incident of Fraud will be reported to the survey with the counter indicating three fraudulent actions.

A health/fitness club sells lifetime memberships to two hundred customers at one location (place). The club never opens.

One incident of Fraud will be reported with the counter indicating two hundred fraudulent actions, thus showing the number of times a similar fraudulent action had occurred at one time and one location.

Theft and Mischief

Motor Vehicles

Each Motor Vehicle Theft violation will be recorded as a separate incident, unless the vehicles were stolen from the same location at the same time. In this case, one incident of Motor Vehicle Theft will be recorded, with a counter showing the number of vehicles stolen.

NOTE: incidents which allow motor vehicle as a stolen property AND a counter can have more than one type of motor vehicle as stolen property on the record.

Examples

Four men working as a gang steal three cars in a parking lot.

One Incident of Theft of a Motor Vehicle would be reported with a counter of 000003.

Five vehicles are damaged by spray paint on a residential street.

One incident of Mischief would be reported with a counter of 000005.

Two vehicles are stolen from a private driveway.

If the vehicles were stolen at the same time and same place, they can be reported on one incident regardless of whether the location is a car dealership, a parking lot or a home. If the parking space had been somehow enclosed, i.e., fenced-in parking lot, a Break and Enter violation must also be included as part of the incident, as per the Criminal Code.

Theft or Mischief

The definition of an incident for this category of violations is not based on the number of objects stolen or the number of CSCs. It is dependent on whether or not the CSCs are acting together, and on whether or not the thefts or mischief are committed simultaneously or sequentially at the same place.

Examples

Two men go into a coatroom and steal from ten coats.

One incident of Theft is scored as the action takes place simultaneously at the same place and the two men act together.

Two bicycles are stolen from the backyard of private property.

One incident of Theft will be reported.

A woman enters a shopping centre and shoplifts in five stores.

Five incidents of Theft will be reported as the thefts were committed at five different places.

A student steals from seven lockers where he attends school.

One incident of Theft will be reported.

Two individuals go to a mall - they split up and both shoplift.

They are not acting together so two incidents will be reported.

Theft from Mail

Since breaking into a mailbox does not meet the essential elements of Break & Enter, only include the Break and Enter violation where there is evidence that a break-in occurred into a mail-room or into another place to obtain the mail.

If mail is stolen and the mailbox is damaged in the process, you may consider adding the Mischief violation to the incident.

If there is evidence of a Break and Enter as part of this incident please include this on the UCR record. For example, if a home was broken into and mail was stolen.

3.4.3 Incidents Comprising Many Violations of the Law

A single incident can group together violations of a different nature (e.g., violations against the person, property violations, etc.). For example:

> A man breaks into a house to steal, but he is caught in the act by the owner. He assaults the owner and runs away.

The property violation (Break and Enter), and the violation against the person (Assault) are of a different nature, but they are grouped together because they are interrelated - they were committed by the same person at the same place and occurred in close chronological order.

In some cases violations come to the attention of the police while they are investigating an unrelated matter - for example:

> A man is arrested by the police because he is driving a stolen car. While being detained and searched at the scene, the man is found to be in possession of cocaine.

Due to the violations coming to the attention of the police at the same time during the same occurrence, they can be grouped together and reported on the UCR survey as one incident.

3.5 Definitions of Founded and Unfounded Incidents

Potential impact of improved reporting standards

At its inception in 1962, the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Survey collected information on both founded and unfounded criminal incidents. Counts of unfounded incidents were collected to measure the proportion of all incidents reported to the police where it was "determined through police investigation that the offence reported did not occur, nor was it attempted." Over time, however, the use of unfounded data declined due to data quality issues and publication was suspended in 2006. In 2018, after working with police to improve reporting of these data, Statistics Canada resumed publishing unfounded incidents.

As part of reinstating the collection of information on unfounded incidents, the definition of both founded and unfounded criminal incidents was updated in January 2018 to reflect a more victim-centred approach. The category of unsubstantiated was removed as an option at this time.

Founded:

An incident is founded if, after police investigation it has been determined that the reported offence did occur or was attempted (even if the charged/suspect chargeable (CSC) [i.e., the accused] is unknown) or there is no credible evidence to confirm that the reported incident did not take place. This includes third-party reports that fit these criteria.

Unfounded:

An incident is unfounded if it has been determined through police investigation that there was sufficient evidence to show that the offence reported did not occur, nor was it attempted.

Effective January 1, 2018.

The following are the only reporting requirements for unfounded incidents:

1. Valid respondent code (RESPCODE).
2. Valid incident file number (INCFLNUM).
3. Valid report date (RPRTDATE).
4. Valid update status (IUPDSTAT).
5. No csc record allowed.
6. Valid viol1.

SECTION 4: DATA ELEMENTS

Violation

Violation
Variable(s):	VIOL1, VIOL2, VIOL3, VIOL4
Record:	Incident
Type:	Alphanumeric
Size:	4
Format:	NNNN

The VIOLATION field occurs 4 times on the Incident Record.

Definition

A hierarchical coding structure, used to identify the four (4) most serious violations in an incident. We collect information on the MSV as it is the most comparable way of reporting incidents. The MSV is used in the annual publication of crime statistics in Canada. This has been the standard for reporting the official crime statistics since the UCR's inception. Information on other violations reported within an incident serve to provide additional characteristics of the incident and are available from the CCJCSS upon request.

Values	Description
0000	Invalid
Blank	Blank is invalid for the first four bytes and the first attempted/completed indicator
1NNN – 7NNN	Criminal Code, federal and provincial statute offences VIOLATIONS between 1000 - 7999 must be recorded on separate incidents from VIOLATIONS in 9NNN range (traffic violations)
9NNN	Traffic violations

Rules

The MSV is determined by the following criteria, in order of priority:

- violations against the person (1NNN – series)
- greatest maximum penalty prescribed by law

Homicide violations (1110, 1120, 1130, 1150 and 1160) take precedence over other violations with the same maximum penalty.
The Most Serious Violation (MSV) must be recorded in VIOL1.
The ranking of the second, third, and fourth violations (VIOL2, VIOL3, and VIOL4) in order of seriousness is not required.
Score a secondary violation (VIOL2), or third, or fourth, only if a charge could result from it alone within the incident.
If the most serious violation in an incident requires a victim record, the Most Serious Violation Against at least one Victim must equal the Most Serious Violation on the Incident record (VIOL1).

Attempted/Completed Violation Variable(s): ATTCOMP1, ATTCOMP2, ATTCOMP3, ATTCOMP4, ATTCOMP Record: Incident, Victim Type: Alphanumeric Size: 1 Format: N

Definition

This data element describes the nature of the violation in that it indicates whether the act or omission was carried out, or whether there was only the intent to carry out the act or omission.

Value	Type	Description
Blank	Invalid	For the first coded violation and for each subsequent violation that is coded (e.g., if second violation is coded, second attempted/completed must be coded).
A	Attempted	As defined in the Criminal Code, Section 24(1) "Everyone who, having an intent to commit an offence, does or omits to do anything for the purpose of carrying out the intention is guilty of an attempt to commit the offence whether or not it was possible under the circumstances to commit the offence."
C	Completed	The particular violation was carried out either through an act or omission by one or more persons.

Rules

Attcomp on the Incident File must match Attcomp variable on the Victim File

This data element will describe the type of location where the incident took place. It is split into two variables:

1. The first variable describes the type of location (LOCATION).

2. The second field is scored only for residential locations that involve violations against the person (1NNN series). It describes whether or not the residence was occupied either by the victim and/or the CSC (Charged/Suspect – Chargeable) at the time of the incident (OCCUPNCY).

Blank	Invalid	Invalid
00	Unknown	The actual place where the incident occurred cannot be determined.

A single home, house, Unit 01 – does become a commercial dwelling unit if the entire dwelling is being used as a short-term vacation rental. In this instance, it should be coded as 04 – Commercial Dwelling Unit. The exception is if a single room is being rented within a house/apartment as an Airbnb (or equivalent), as a short-term rental, and the rest of the unit is shared space with the primary resident; in such cases, this should be coded as 03 – Dwelling Unit.

Incident Clearance Status

Incident Clearance Status

Variable(s): INCCLRST
Record: Incident
Type: Alphanumeric
Size: 1
Format: A

Definition

This data element will describe the status of an incident (unfounded or founded), and if it is a founded violation, its clearance status (not cleared, cleared by charge or cleared otherwise).

The UCR survey is incident-based NOT violation-based. If one violation on the incident is cleared, the entire incident is considered cleared for UCR purposes. An incident may be cleared by charge if a charge is laid in connection with any of the violations on the incident. The violation cleared does not necessarily have to be the most serious violation (MSV) within the incident. A less serious violation with a higher clearance status results in the clearance of the entire incident. The incident clearance status should reflect the most serious clearance in the following order of seriousness: C, W, D-F, G-K, L-R, S-T, X-Z, A.

Value	Title	Description
Blank	Invalid
	Unfounded Incidents
A	Unfounded	It has been determined through police investigation that the offence reported did not occur, nor was it attempted.
	Founded Incidents – Not Cleared
X	Open / Still under investigation	This clearance option is to be used for all open investigations and for those where action has yet to be taken on the reported incident. It includes incidents that cannot be classified as Y - Insufficient evidence to proceed or Z - Victim/complainant declines to proceed (no CSC identified).
Y	Insufficient evidence to proceed	When there is insufficient or conflicting evidence for the police service to substantiate laying a charge or recommending a charge to the Crown.
Z	Victim/complainant declines to proceed (no CSC identified)	The CSC cannot be identified either because the victim/complainant or other witnesses do not want to identify a CSC or they do not want to actively participate in the investigation.

Founded Incidents – Cleared by Charge or Charges Recommended
C	Cleared by charge (includes charges recommended)	At least one CSC has been identified and there is a criminal charge laid or recommended to be laid against this individual in connection with this criminal incident.
W	Charges recommended but all declined by Crown	When the police have recommended to the Crown that charges be laid, but the Crown declines to proceed with all of the proposed charges. This clearance applies to provinces that require Crown charge approval (i.e., New Brunswick, Quebec and British Columbia), but can also be used by police in other provinces where an incident involves a recommendation to the Crown.
Founded Incidents – Cleared Otherwise
D	Suicide of CSC	The CSC takes their own life prior to the department laying charges.
E	Death of CSC (not suicide)	The CSC loses life by circumstances other than suicide, prior to the police laying charges.
F	Death of complainant / witness	The complainant in the case or an essential witness to the incident loses their life through any circumstances prior to the police laying charges.
G	Reason beyond control of department (policy)	By directive either for policy or stated procedure, the department cannot lay charges.
H	Diplomatic immunity	CSC is a diplomat of a Member State of the United Nations and is therefore covered under the Privileges and Immunities Act 1977, which exempts the CSC from charges for specific offences committed by them in Canada.
I	CSC under 12 years of age	Children under 12 years of age cannot be prosecuted for criminal activities.
J	CSC committed to mental health facility	The CSC is not available for prosecution because: a) they are committed to a mental health facility without the hope of early release or b) As per conditions set by the court or Review Board under C.C. 672.54(b).
K	CSC outside of Canada, cannot be returned	CSC is not present in Canada and cannot be returned to Canada to face charges because Canada does not have an extradition treaty with the country in question or the government decides not to proceed with extradition, therefore no charges are laid.
L	Victim/complainant request that no further action is taken (CSC identified)	The CSC is known and sufficient evidence has been obtained to support a charge, but the victim/complainant request that no further action is taken by police and as a result police use discretion to not lay or recommend a charge.

M	CSC involved in other incidents	The CSC is involved in another incident in which charges have been laid, it is decided NOT to lay charges against them for this particular incident. Should only be used if the CSC has already been charged in YOUR jurisdiction.
N	CSC already sentenced	The CSC is already serving a sentence in a correctional facility and no useful purpose would be served by laying charges in connection with this particular incident.
O	Departmental discretion	For reasons not already outlined in any of the other categories listed above and is not a diversionary program, the department's administration decides not to lay a charge against the CSC. For example, if a CSC is given a warning, caution or a referral to a community-based program.
R	Diversionary Program	The CSC is diverted away from the court process into a formal diversionary program. Commonly referred to as Alternative Measures or Extrajudicial Sanctions.
S	Incident Cleared by a Lesser Statute	Applies to less serious violations that can be cleared by municipal by-law or lesser statute – Note that a CSC needs to be identified in connection with the incident.
T	Incident Cleared by Other Municipal / Provincial / Federal agency	Incident cleared by another municipal/provincial/federal agency. A CSC has been identified in connection with an incident in your jurisdiction, however, the incident will be cleared by another municipal/provincial/ federal agency, and you are satisfied clearing your incident by T. Note, no charges will be laid in your incident.

If CLEARED OTHERWISE, CSC must be identified and a CSC record attached.

Cybercrime

Variable(s): CYBCRIND, CYBCRTYP, CYBCRCLS
Record: Incident
Type: Alphanumeric
Size: 6
Format: NNNNNN
Composite: = Cyber Crime Indicator (2 bytes) + Cyber Crime Type (2 bytes) Cybercrime Classification (2 bytes)

Definition

For the purpose of national police-reported statistics, cybercrime encompasses any criminal act as outlined in Canada's Criminal Code where Information and Communication Technology (ICT) is the target of the offence, or whereby ICT is integral and vital in the commission of the offence.

ICT includes, but is not limited to, the internet, computers, servers, digital technology, digital telecommunications devices, phones and networks.

Texting, messages on Facebook and Twitter/X for example are all to be considered as cybercrime activity if a criminal offence (such as uttering threat or criminal harassment) is involved.

If a person opens an email in Ottawa, but lives in Montreal, the crime will be coded with a location where the person is at the moment of opening the email (ex: house), the case will be taken by the police service where the mail was opened (Ottawa) and the police service where the person lives should enter the case as assistance (Montreal).

A cell phone thrown at someone has technology present, but should not be considered cybercrime.

A fraud over the phone or internet uses the technology, so should be reported as cybercrime.

Cyber Crime Indicator
Variable: CYBCRIND

Values	Title	Description
Blank	Invalid
01	Yes	There is evidence or some indication that information and communication technology (ICT) was the target of the Criminal Code offence, or was integral or vital to the commission of the offence.
02	No	There is no evidence that information and communication technology (ICT) was the target of the Criminal Code offence, or was integral or vital to the commission of the offence.

Cyber Crime Type
Variable: CYBCRTYP

Values	Title	Description
Blank	Invalid
01	Target	Criminal Code offences where information and communication technology (ICT) including devices and networks, are the target of the offence. Examples include, but are not limited to, unauthorized use of a computer and mischief relating to computer data.
02	Instrument	Offences where the information and communications technology (ICT) is integral or vital to the commission of a Criminal Code offence. These can be considered 'traditional crimes' committed through ICT. Examples include, but are not limited to, criminal harassment, fraud, distribution/sale of child sexual abuse and exploitation material, theft, and identity theft when committed through the use of information technology.
99	Not Applicable	Information and communications technology (ICT) was not involved in the incident.

Cybercrime Classification
Variable: CYBCRCLS

Values	Label	Description	Examples
Blank	Invalid
01	Malware	Software that is intentionally included or inserted in a system for a malicious purpose, without the user's approval. A system controlled by an attacker or cybercriminal which is used to send commands to other systems or to receive data from a victim. Connection performed by/from/to (a) suspicious system(s).	Computer viruses, worms, Trojans, spyware, adware. Ransomware, ransomware-as-a-service (RaaS), malware-as-a-service (MaaS), command and control.
02	System and Service Availability	Malicious cyber activity that attempts to make a system unavailable to other users. Malicious cyber activity that unsuccessfully attempts to make the system unavailable to other users, information, etc.	Denial of Service / Distributed Denial of Service – where a large number of emails, calls, requests are made, overwhelm the system and render it unavailable for a period of time. Example: an online ticket booking service is brought down therefore failing to service the people who require it. Sabotage where employees/persons with access to a system conduct malicious activities to hinder functionality and interrupt services provided.

03	Information Gathering	Active and passive gathering of information on systems or networks. Most likely a precursor to another malicious cyber activity. Unauthorized monitoring and reading of network traffic. Most likely a precursor to another malicious cyber activity. Attempt to gather information on a user or system through phishing techniques. Most likely a precursor to another malicious cyber activity. Other techniques used to gather information.	Scanning Networks are scanned to identify open ports and how networks operate to determine what could aide in the breach of a system. Server (DNS) Zone Transfer - one DNS server transfers info to another with plans to copy or redirect information to use for a later attack. Definition: Domain Name System (DNS) The Domain Name System (DNS) is the Internet's system for mapping alphabetic names to numeric internet protocol (IP) addresses, like a phone book maps a person's name to a phone number. Sniffing - monitoring of a network to capture a package of information like usernames, passwords, emails, financial information. Phishing – attempt to trick users into disclosing personal data, such as credit card numbers, online banking credentials, and other sensitive information, which they may then use to commit fraudulent acts. Hosting a website for phishing purposes.

08	Exploitation, Harassment, or Abuse of a Person	The use of electronic communication to exploit, harass, or abuse a person.	Sending messages of an intimidating or threatening nature. The repeated use of electronic communications to harass or frighten someone Child sexual exploitation through electronic means. Possess, create, access, and distribute child sexual abuse and exploitation material.

09	Uncategorized	Incidents against a person or system not classified in the existing classification.
99	Not Applicable	Information and communications technology (ICT) was not involved in the incident.	Not a Cybercrime

Rules

If the Cybercrime Indicator (CYBCRIND) is Yes (01) then the Cybercrime Type (CYBERTYP) cannot be Not Applicable (99) and the Cybercrime Classification (CYBERCLS) cannot be Not Applicable (99).

If Luring a Child via Computer (1370) or Agreement or Arrangement – Sexual Offence Against a Child (1371) is an incident violation (VIOL1-4) then the Cybercrime Indicator (CYBCRIND) must be Yes (01) and the Cybercrime Type must be Instrument (02). Cybercrime classification (CYBCRCLS) is normally Exploitation, Harassment, or Abuse of a Person (08) in this circumstance, but others may apply.

If the Fraud Type (FRAUDTYP) is Computer (60) then the Cybercrime Indicator (CYBCRIND) must be Yes (01). Cybercrime classification (CYBCRCLS) is normally Fraud (06) in this circumstance, but others may apply.

Where a computer or the internet was used for disabling other computers or defacing websites, do not code both target and instrument. In these cases, score the computer/internet as the target of the crime.

Definition

Hate crime: A criminal offence committed against a person or property that is motivated in whole or in part by bias, prejudice or hate based on race, national or ethnic origin, language, colour, religion, sex, age, mental or physical disability, sexual orientation or gender identity or expression, or on any other similar factor.

Suspected hate crime is a criminal offence against a person or property with reasonable suspicion that it is motivated in whole or in part by hate, bias, or prejudice.

- The UCR Survey has adopted the new standard definition of hate crime for use by all police services across Canada. The definition was created by the Hate Crime Task Force (HCTF) and endorsed by the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police (CACP), 2023.

Guidelines for determining if an incident should be coded as a hate crime – 3 criteria of a hate crime:

1. The incident must be criminal (meet the threshold and requirements of a Canadian Criminal Code offence). Police should use Reasonable Probable Grounds to determine if it meets the threshold along with all applicable case law.
2. The criminal incident must be motivated in whole or in part by bias, prejudice or hatred.
3. That hatred may be manifest in a property or person offence but must be directed at an identifiable group or any other similar factor.

Some examples of hate crimes:

1. An assault of a gay man leaving a gay club, where anti-gay slurs were used.
2. A swastika spray painted on the side of a synagogue [1]

3. A Chinese woman is threatened leaving a store by an angry mob who use slurs and have anti-Asian signs.

In all three examples,

1. There was a criminal violation: 1 Assault, 2 Mischief, 3 Uttering threats.
2. The criminal incident was motivated in whole or in part by hate/bias/prejudice.
3. Involved incidents that targeted an enumerated group under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms: 1 Sexual Orientation, 2 Religion, 3 Race or national ethnic origin.

Footnote 1: Display of hate symbols, gestures and language. Some symbols have historically been used to promote hate. For example, a Swastika / Hakenkreuz (as it relates to the German Nazi Party) spray painted on a synagogue can be interpreted as a hate crime, while the same symbol inscribed on a Hindu temple would represent an ancient religious and cultural Hindu Symbol and would not be considered a crime. Note, it is important to take the symbols and gestures in the context that they are used.

Additional guidelines for determining if an incident should be coded as a hate-motivated crime

Consulted investigators have identified the importance of considering the surrounding circumstances when coding an incident as a hate crime. These include (but are not limited to the following):

- what was said
- timing of any slur
- history between parties
- level of threat displayed
- when applicable, the severity and context of violence, vandalism, and/or destruction of property, i.e., how an object was vandalized
- absence of any other information
- was a victim 'randomly' targeted?
- perceptions of the victim
- visibility of the victim
- only person of that characteristic in neighborhood?
- other similar people/groups targeted
- is the person visibly different? Are they 'out' if 2SLGBTQI+?
- community context/neighbourhood
- race/ethnicity/sexual orientation of suspect
- all surrounding and supporting evidence.

Police should also consider the following aspects when determining if an incident should be coded as a hate crime:

1. Statistics Canada would like to record all incidents of hate-motivated crime when the crime is directed at a community. To be considered a hate crime, the incident does not have to be directed at an individual. See hate crime example #2 (above).

   A hate crime does not require an actual victim for police to report the incident. If someone spray paints a Swastika / Hakenkreuz (as it relates to the German Nazi Party) on a synagogue, it should still be considered hate-motivated mischief. In this case, the crime is directed towards a community not an individual. Victimization is projected to all community members. There is a sense of group vulnerability, and possible community fear, tension & polarization.

2. Statistics Canada would like to record all incidents of hate-motivated crime whether or not an accused has been identified. The perpetrator's actions and/or words may demonstrate that their reason for committing the crime was based on hatred for an identifiable group.
3. The victim need not be a member of that group for the incident to apply. Therefore, the characteristic of the incident and the characteristic of the victim may not match. For example, if a straight man is attacked and called anti-gay names while being beaten, this is still considered an anti-gay incident. Consider, the characteristics of the offence; not the victim.
4. Any other similar factor includes factors not innumerate specifically in section 718.2 of the Criminal Code, but for which the police service believes that the individual was targeted with hatred because of an identifiable characteristic. This section is open to police discretion for when to apply.
5. There must be evidence to support that this specific incident was motivated or suspected to be motivated by hate and not simply opportunity.

Non-criminal hate incident: (Not in scope for the UCR Survey) A non-criminal action against a person or property that is motivated by bias, prejudice, or hate based on race, national or ethnic origin, language, colour, religion, sex, age, mental or physical disability, sexual orientation or gender identity or expression, or on any similar factor. For example, derogatory or ractial slurs stated during a neighbourhood dispute.

Hate Crime Indicator
Variable : HATCRIND

Definition

This variable indicates the hate crime status of the incident.

Value	Title	Description
Blank	Invalid
01	Yes	The incident was motivated by hate.
02	Suspected	There is reasonable suspicion that the incident was motivated by hate, bias, or prejudice, but cannot be proven to be solely motivated by hate.
03	No	The incident was not motivated by hate.

Rules

If Hate-motivated mischief relating to property used by identifiable group (2176), Advocating Genocide (3550) or Public Incitement of Hatred (3560) is an incident violation (VIOL1-4), then the Hate Crime Indicator (HATCRIND) must be Yes (01).

Respondents should score incidents using appropriate UCR violation codes (e.g., assault, criminal harassment, vandalism), and, in addition, flag whether or not the incident was motivated by hate. The perpetrator's actions and/or words may demonstrate that their reason for committing the crime was based on hatred for an identifiable group.

All incidents scored as Yes or Suspected must be confirmed by the appropriate specialized unit or individual responsible for hate crime within the police service (where applicable).

If, after an incident has been submitted to the CCJCSS, further information reveals that the incident was motivated by hate, the original file should be updated to reflect this.

Rules

If the Hate Crime Indicator (HATCRIND) is Yes (01) or Suspected (02) then the Hate Crime Type (HATCRTYP) cannot be Not Applicable (99) and the Hate Crime Motivation (HATCRMOT) cannot be Not Applicable (99).

The Hate Crime Motivation (HATCRMOT) must be compatible with the Hate Crime Type (HATCRTYP). For example, If the Hate Crime Motivation (HATCRMOT) is Bisexual (30) then the Hate Crime Type (HATCRTYP) must be Sexual Orientation (03).

The Hate Crime Motivation 2 (HATCRMO2) must be compatible with the Hate Crime Type 2 (HATCRTY2).

Score only motivations principal to the offence. As an example; someone who is black and gay is assaulted and called anti-gay words would be scored as an anti-gay incident. The race in this example is irrelevant. And the reverse is true if they were assaulted and called anti-black names.

If more than two motivations are applicable and integral to the incident then code Hate Crime Type (HATCRTYP) to Combination (More than two factors) (09) and Hate Crime Motivation (HATCRMOT) to Combination (More than two factors) (76). Hate Crime Type 2 (HATCRTY2) must be Not Applicable (99) and Hate Crime Motivation 2 (HATCRMO2) must be Not Applicable (99) in these instances (ex: a white supremacist group known to target more than two groups partaking in a march).

Sexual Orientation should be chosen as a category with respect to who a person is attracted to. Sex/gender should be chosen as a category for how a person self identifies (example: gay is a sexual orientation category, transgender is a sex/gender category). The two categories are not exclusive in that it's possible to be both transgender and gay.

Special Survey Feature Variable(s): Record: Incident, CSC (Charged/Suspect – Chargeable), Victim Type: Alphanumeric Size:	Unedited data in a free format variable length field to the core UCR record to be used for special ad-hoc analysis.

Definition

This requirement is not a specific field, but rather an interface capability and is intended to increase the flexibility of the survey.

Previously, UCR2 data could only be submitted in a fixed record length format based on explicit data requirements. This made the survey extremely rigid as the addition of new data elements involved significant redesign of both respondent interfaces and the CCJCSS data processing system. The UCR2 data processing system has been modified so as to be capable of accepting variable length records. Therefore, extra data (beyond the core requirements) may be appended to any one of the CSC, Victim, or Incident records. Data submitted through the special survey feature could be used for answering special research questions, prototyping changes to the core requirements, or adding optional or secondary data elements.

System Requirements

Respondents must be able to easily select fields currently existing on their police records management system and append them to the Victim, CSC, or Incident records. Similarly, respondents must be able to discontinue sending these data if they are no longer needed.

In appending these fields, the respondent must be able to specify the position on the record that the field will be written to and the length of the field.

Once a new field is appended to the UCR record, all subsequent add and modify transactions for a particular record will include the new field, even if not included in the original transaction.

Once a new field is discontinued, all subsequent add and modify transactions for a particular record will no longer include the field, even if included in the original transaction.

2. If name is not known (Field I), leave blank.
3. Type: Alphanumeric, special characters (including letters with French accents) accepted with encoding type=ANSI.

Firearms

Variable(s): FIREREC, FIRESZE, FIRESTL, FIREDIS
Record: Incident
Type: Alphanumeric
Size: 20
Format: NNNNNNNNNNNNNNNNNNNN
Composite: = Firearms Recovered (6 bytes) + Firearms Seized (6 bytes) + Firearms Stolen (6 bytes) + Firearm Discharged (2 bytes)

These variables indicate the number of firearms recovered, seized and stolen as well as whether a firearm was discharged as part of the incident. It is valid for one incident to have more than one of these fields populated. The same firearm can be counted across multiple fields. As this is an incident-based survey, it is looking to count number of incidents where a firearm is involved and not the total count of firearms.

Firearms Recovered (Recovered-Stolen)
Variable : FIREREC

Definition

This variable indicates the number of stolen firearms which were recovered as part of the incident. This includes firearms that were previously listed as stolen by police but were later recovered/found during this UCR incident.

Value	Description
Blank	Invalid
000000	No firearms recovered.
000001 to 999999	Indicates the number of firearms recovered.

Rules

The FIREREC field deals with stolen firearms reported by the investigating police service or other police services (as reported in CPIC) and which were recovered or discovered in connection with this incident.

Firearms Seized
Variable : FIRESZE

Definition

This variable indicates the number of firearms which were seized as part of the incident. A firearm is considered seized when a firearm is taken by police with a legal authority to do so. For example, this may be for public safety reasons, for the collection of evidence, or for criminal code offences through investigation, arrest, or the execution of a search warrant as part of this incident.

Value	Description
Blank	Invalid
000000	No firearms seized.
000001 to 999999	Indicates the number of firearms seized.

Firearms Stolen
Variable : FIRESTL

Definition

This variable indicates the number of firearms which were reported to police stolen as part of the incident or if police know a stolen firearm is involved in an incident.

Value	Description
Blank	Invalid
000000	No firearms stolen.
000001 to 999999	Indicates the number of firearms stolen.

Rules

If a firearm (RW, RI, SG, OT) is entered in any of the property stolen fields (PROPSTL1-5) then the number of Firearms Stolen (FIRESTL) must be greater than 000000.

If Robbery to Steal a Firearm (1611) is an incident violation (VIOL1- 4) and the violation is completed, then the number of Firearms Stolen (FIRESTL) must be greater than 000000.

Note: These fields (FIREREC, FIRESZE, FIRESTL) do NOT represent a total count of firearms, but rather, a count of firearms for each of the individual firearm variables, as it pertains to the incident. A specific firearm can be counted in more than one field, if it applies. This is not “double counting” as the intention is to record the number of incidents in which the firearm characteristic is present. For example, if a stolen firearm is recovered by police in an incident and then seized in the same incident, it would be recorded under both the “recovered-stolen” variable and the “seized” variable for that incident record.

Standard Definition - Shooting

A shooting includes criminal incidents where the victim(s) or property was reported to have been shot or shot at with a firearm (firearm as defined under the Criminal Code of Canada) and refers to any incident where the investigation supported that credible physical or witness testimony existed that one or more projectiles were discharged from a firearm.

This definition would include:

a) An incident where a person discharges a firearm with intent at a victim and causes death or injury to one or more persons.

b) An incident where a person discharges a firearm with intent at a victim and does not cause injury or death to one or more persons.

c) An incident where a person intentionally discharges a firearm into or at a place, knowing that or being reckless as to whether another person is present in the place; or who intentionally discharges a firearm while being reckless as to the life or safety of another person.

This definition would exclude:

d) A report of shots fired where there is no evidence to support the report.

e) Incidents of suicide and attempted suicide by firearm.

f) Incidents of killing an animal by firearm (hunting, lawfully putting down an animal, but does not include criminal killing of an animal).

g) Incidents where a peace officer discharges a firearm lawfully (does not involve criminal discharge of a firearm by a peace officer).

Shooting incidents are collected through the Firearm Discharge Variable. All shootings are considered a firearm discharged, but not all firearms discharged are considered shootings. This definition was established by Statistics Canada, in consultation with police and firearm experts and endorsed by the CACP.

Included in Crime Gun:

- Both incidents where a firearm has a serial number altered or obliterated as well as a firearm used in criminal activity will be included.
- Replicas, imitation, 3D printed firearms, ghost guns, should all be included, as should pellet or BB guns / air guns but ONLY when they are used in a threatening, intimidating or criminal manner. To address this, the proposed definition includes wording which focuses on the police investigation substantiating that the weapon was used in a criminal manner. This will allow police to include weapons they believe should be included (threats, intimidation, violence), while excluding toys used in routine play.

Not included in Crime Gun:

- Guns deemed to be illegal because of a regulatory requirement will not be included. For example, an owner who let their Possession and Acquisition Licence (PAL) expire. To address concern, the proposed definition does not include regulatory or administrative offences in the crime gun category, and use language such as criminal offence to be specific.
- Replicas, toys, 3D printed firearms, ghost guns, will not be included, nor pellet or BB guns / air guns if they are not used in a threatening, intimidating or criminal manner. To address this, the proposed definition includes wording which focuses on the police investigation substantiating that the weapon was used in a criminal manner. This will allow police to include weapons they believe should be included (threats, intimidation, violence), while excluding toys used in routine play.

Police will determine whether or not a firearm should be classified as a crime gun as a result of the investigation.

Note: there is no current collection of Crime Gun in the UCR survey. This definition was established by Statistics Canada, in consultation with police and firearm experts and endorsed by the CACP and is for information purposes only.
