The Skilled Leader Series- Mastering the Moment: Communications Skills for Police Leaders

1. What is The Skilled Leader Series?

The Skilled Leader Series is a brand new professional development program offered by the CACP. This inaugural edition consists of three one-hour virtual workshops designed to strengthen public communication skills of police leaders by providing practical strategies to speak with confidence, clarity, and credibility across a variety of community and operational settings.

The Series is structured to support active participation through a variety of techniques such as reflection prompts, self paced activities, and situational application.

All registrants will receive a certificate of completion from the CACP at the conclusion of the series.

2. Who is the series for?

This series is open to all members of the CACP and the broader law enforcement community. Whether you're a senior leader or an emerging professional, the content is tailored to support growth in leadership communication.

3. Who is leading the sessions?

We have partnered with Ms. Heather Marietta, founder of Career in Progress, a strength based expert from the Boston area, with extensive experience in helping professionals with skill development in a number of areas.

2. What does the series include?

- ◆ Workshop 1: Speaking with Confidence and Control
Manage nerves, master body language, and project calm authority.
- ◆ Workshop 2: Message Structure and Clarity
Craft clear, concise, audience-focused messages with proven techniques.
- ◆ Workshop 3: Practical Scenarios and Real-World Delivery
Apply strategies in real policing contexts, from press briefings to team meetings.

4. When will the workshops run and what if some of the dates don't work for me?

The workshops are scheduled to run live across three separate dates: October 16, 2025, January 15, 2026, March 19, 2026. The series is virtual and recorded for flexibility. If a participant is not able to attend live, they can still participate through the recorded version.
